ABSTRACT

Everyone needs some type of guidance in their life to achieve something. It is same with the college students. When a student enters in the college, he/she needs proper guidance to achieve the goal they want. For this need, we have developed a website ‘Get Guidance’. Through this website students can get proper guidance about their career. More importantly, this guidance will be provided by the community itself.

This website aims to help the students who are just entered the college or are in first, second year. They can ask their doubts, queries and all other types of questions. People signed in on this website will get that question on their feed. One can answer that question easily. Moreover there is functionality of posting about updates of college. It also has a facility of article writing where seniors can write about any topic they want. It also includes easy authentication as it is achieved by Google APIs.
